Richard & Alice Wycoff – Heart to Heart International

On June 10, 1964, Richard and Alice Wycoff began a journey together which has been blessed in its variety and opportunities for happiness and service to God and people.

Born in Ohio but raised in PA, Richard attended Eastern Nazarene College in Mass. and graduated from Bethany Nazarene College (now Southern Nazarene University) in OK, and later received a Master's Degree in Music Ed. from Northern Arizona University.

Alice was born in Kansas but is an Okie from Muskogee. She graduated from B.N.C. and received a Master of Music in Performance (piano) from N.A.U.

Both taught school on the Navajo Indian reservation in Arizona. Alice retired for awhile when children came along.

Richard went on to be a pastor in Kansas, Fort Worth and McKinney, serving 21 years at the McKinney Church of the Nazarene. He was very much involved in the community, serving on city, school district and Ministerial Alliance functions.

Alice returned to teaching when the youngest of their four sons went to Junior High. She taught Middle School Music in Princeton for 17 years.

Richard and Alice both have been involved in a variety of service projects, many of them related to a church sponsored program called Work and Witness. This has taken one or both of them to about 30 different projects in the U.S. and several other nations.

Retirement came with an invitation to go to China for a year and work with Heart to Heart, International, a humanitarian organization. While there they established a neighborhood English teaching center. This past year they returned to China for 3 months and, unexpectedly, were involved in Heart to Heart's response to the nearby earthquake.

District Membership Committee gives "birth" to New Site

The District Membership Director John Johnstone and District Membership Committee have worked hard and given "birth" to a new website that offers a set of tremendously valuable tools for Rotarians. The site is now available at <http://www.rotarymembers.org/> and contains several tabs that are designed to make all matters related to helping add new, qualified members, help each new member understand and get oriented to the world of rotary, and find ways to get acquainted with their new club and get involved. The very latest materials from Rotary International have been conveniently placed at the fingertips of our current member, new members and even prospective members who would like to know more about Rotary. Take a moment and check out the District's new "baby", tickle all the tabs and find out why this new addition to our District family of support tools will serve you and your club.

"Having state-of-the-art tools for developing new members and helping them grow is essential and this new website delivers that!"

Today's Thoughts in Honor of ....

Native American Day – September 25

When you were born, you cried and the world rejoiced.

Live your life so that when you die, the world cries and you rejoice.

- White Elk, Northern Cheyenne (1849 – 1914)

Confucius Day – September 29

The superior man, when resting in safety, does not forget that danger may come. When in a state of security he does not forget the possibility of ruin. When all is orderly, he does not forget that disorder may come. Thus his person is not endangered, and his States and all their clans are preserved.

- Confucius (551 BC – 479 BC)

A woman, on meeting a psychologist at a party, made a pitch for some free professional advice. "What kind of toy would you suggest giving a little boy on his third birthday?" she asked.

"First I'd have to know more about the child," the psychologist hedged.

The woman took a deep breath. "He's very bright and quick-witted and exceptionally advanced for his age," she said. "He has good coordination, expresses himself very well..."

"Oh, I see," the psychologist said. "It's YOUR child!"

Push to end polio gains ground

Although the Global Polio Eradication Initiative (GPEI) has faced sobering challenges in the past year, officials say it is moving forward in key political, technical, financial, and operational areas.

Stepped-up efforts to end the disease in the four endemic countries -- Afghanistan, India, Nigeria, and Pakistan -- are paying off, they say.

"Rotary International has played an extraordinarily special role [in the GPEI], not just as one of the initiators but in bringing financial resources, political advocacy, and volunteerism on the ground to getting the job done," said Dr. Bruce Aylward, director of the GPEI at the World Health Organization, speaking to the National Press Club in Washington, D.C., in June.

Aylward said that all levels of government in the four countries are committing unprecedented support for the polio eradication effort by monitoring the performance of immunization activities and holding local authorities accountable for the results.

According to WHO, the incidence of polio in India in 2009 has dropped by 28 percent to 284 cases as of 8 September, compared with 397 cases over the same period a year ago. Monthly immunization campaigns in the highest-risk areas have reduced wild poliovirus type 1 -- the more dangerous of the two remaining strains -- to record lows. Type 1 causes paralysis in about 1 out of every 200 children infected, versus 1 out of every 1,000 children with type 3.

In Nigeria, the incidence of polio has decreased by 41 percent to 379 cases, from 646 cases a year ago. By early 2009, the proportion of unimmunized children in the highest-risk states had fallen below 10 percent for the first time.

Unrest along the Afghanistan-Pakistan border has resulted in a slight increase in the number of cases in both countries in the past year. Between large-scale immunization campaigns, however, teams have exploited lulls in the conflict to enter normally inaccessible areas and give children an additional dose of vaccine. In Afghanistan, the wild poliovirus is endemic only in the south, and about 80 percent of children live in polio-free areas.

Rotarians in Pakistan have encouraged the national government to give strong support to ending polio. In early 2009, Pakistan launched the Prime Minister's Action Plan for Polio Eradication. On behalf of Rotary International in August, International PolioPlus Committee Chair Robert S. Scott recognized Pakistan's president, Asif Ali Zardari, with a Polio Eradication Champion Award for his outstanding support for a polio-free world. Read more

A new vaccine will be introduced in India as early as November to help stop the transmission of the type 1 and type 3 wild polioviruses. (Type 2 has been eradicated globally except in Nigeria.) This bivalent vaccine, health officials believe, will multiply the gains made during the past year toward eradicating polio. Intended to complement, not replace, monovalent and trivalent vaccines already in use, the bivalent vaccine will also be considered for Afghanistan, Nigeria, and Pakistan.

Worldwide, the number of polio cases has dropped from more than 350,000 in 1988, when the GPEI began, to 1,651 in 2008.

"This is a great improvement from the worst days of polio epidemics," said Rotary Foundation Trustee Chair Glenn E. Estess Sr. "But it is not good enough, and it will not be good enough until the number is zero. We cannot pause or slacken our efforts."

Global health experts are calling the push to end polio "the final inch," in light of the remaining 1 percent of cases that are the most difficult and expensive to prevent. Rotary's US\$200 Million Challenge, which ends 30 June 2012, is seen as crucial to the initiative's success.

"This is an absolutely devastating disease that affects the poorest, most marginalized communities in the world," Aylward said. "We have the tools to eliminate it forever."

Rotarians go door to door to immunize children in Moradabad, Uttar Pradesh, one of the last remaining reservoirs of polio in India. Rotary Images/Alyce Henson
