Tim Nolan – Senior Applications Manager Collin Co.

Tim was hired at Collin County as the GIS Administrator in 1992. He established a student internship program in 1994 that still thrives today. In October 2008, he was promoted to Senior Applications Manager. His new responsibilities include GIS, but also all applications/integrations, database administration, records management, and web services.

Tim has served as the President and Texas Representative of the South Central ARC User Group. Much to the shock and delight of his parents, he finally graduated from the University of North Texas with a Geography degree in 1991. He became a Certified GIS professional (GISP) in 2004 and ITIL certified in 2009.

A Message from the District Governer

The phrase “Every Rotarian an Example to Youth” was adopted by the Rotary International Board in 1949. In keeping with the September Rotary Theme of “New Generations” it seems appropriate that we should ponder the benefits of “Newer” Generations taking an active role in civic service and our Rotary clubs. This includes 18 years and under through our youth programs and the Rotaract crowd, 18-30 years.

“Engaging Young People in Civic Life” (Peter Levine, et al) is a collection of essays from research universities that shatter the myth that our youth is disengaged. The research shows our youth is volunteering at a growing rate; however fewer and fewer join service clubs such as Rotary due to required weekly meetings, annual dues, additional meal expenses and time constraints. Why? Perhaps their new careers and young families are pulling them in too many directions? Levine also sights several studies, showing that young Americans are responsive to effective outreach efforts. So how do we bridge the gap between graduating 30 something Rotaract members and facilitate their transition to our Rotary clubs?

Recent research has shown us that our median Rotarian age is between 50-59 years and has been increasing. This age group is the backbone of our clubs, a true foundation of stability and experience. A question we must all ask of our current club leaders is “Who will lead our club in 10 years?” Young community leaders and professionals? Former Rotaract members? First time small business owners under 40?

I believe the diversity in growth and membership we need is best summed by Past RI President DK Lee, who said, “If we don’t bring in younger members, we’ll miss out on a great deal of energy and expertise. The strongest Rotary club is one that is diverse. It has members of different ages, both men and women. It has members of many different vocations and professions. It has members with different skills and talents.”

It is in this spirit that we should embrace and support the Rotaract clubs in existence and those being newly chartered. Most importantly we must not forget “the ask”. As Rotaract members graduate into their 30’s, are we seeking them out and inviting them to join their next Rotary family?

What is your club known for?

The Rotary Club of Greater Lake Charles, Louisiana, USA, holds an auction every year, raising money for scholarships to local universities and for The Rotary Foundation. For the past 20 years, the auction has been the activity that defines the club in the community.

The Rotary Club of Malone, New York, USA, has built a reputation out of its spaghetti dinners. "They always have a huge turnout and significant merchant support," notes Martha Weaver, a member of the club. "More than once, we have run out of spaghetti sauce."

For the Rotary Club of Calcutta Uptown, West Bengal, India, Rotary Foundation Matching Grant projects have been its signature in the rural areas of the Bengal region, helping provide eye care, computer centers for youth, and improved sanitation.

Developing signature activities that are visible in the community helps enhance the public image and awareness of Rotary, one of the priorities of the RI Strategic Plan. To encourage clubs to promote their own defining activities and to gather input from Rotarians, RI Vice President Thomas M. Thorfinnson recently moderated a discussion on Rotary International's official LinkedIn group.

RI directors will be moderating more discussions in the coming weeks, giving clubs a chance to share how their activities are helping to support the RI Strategic Plan. Join the discussion on LinkedIn.

"Surveys of Rotarians have made it clear to the Board that the vast majority of Rotarians want to be known for the good that we do. Signature activities or projects are a great way to make that happen," Thorfinnson says.

Mark Meyers, of the Rotary Club of Croydon South, Greater London, England, notes on LinkedIn that his club is known for its Christmas charity collection. "We organize a trailer with a sled on it and a public address system playing Christmas carols. Father Christmas encourages people to come out and greet their neighbors while club members circulate, asking for donations."

The Rotary Club of Strongsville, Ohio, USA, is known for its golf outing held in the middle of winter -- ice, snow, and all -- says club member Joseph Dzurilla. The Rotary Club of Delhi Vasant Valley, Delhi, India, creates awareness of Rotary through blood donation camps.

The Rotary clubs of Churchland-Portsmouth and Portsmouth, Virginia, USA, hold a barbecue networking event full of food, refreshments, and live entertainment. According to Bill Pollard, a member of the Churchland-Portsmouth club, about 3,000 people attend the event, with each club netting about $10,000 to support local projects and programs.

Today's Thoughts in Honor of

Confucius Day – September 29

To be able under all circumstances to practice five things constitutes perfect virtue; these five things are gravity, generosity of soul, sincerity, earnestness and kindness.

- Confucius (551 BC – 479 BC)

National Golf Day – October 4

There's something intrinsically therapeutic about choosing to spend your time in a wide, open park- like setting that non-golfers can never truly understand.

- Charles Rosin (1952 –)

Off the seventh tee, Brian sliced his shot deep into a wooded ravine. He took his eight iron and clambered down the embankment in search of his lost ball.

After many long minutes of hacking at the underbrush, he spotted something glistening in the leaves. As he drew nearer, he discovered that it was an eight iron in hands of a skeleton!

Joe immediately called out to his friend, "Jack, I've got trouble down here!"

"What's the matter?" Jack asked from the edge of the ravine.

"Bring me my wedge," Brian shouted. "You can't get out of here with an eight iron!"
